E-mu Whips Up Sample Library

Compiled by Sarah Benzuly

Oct 1, 2005 12:00 PM

E-mu's soon-to-be-released grand piano sample library has chosen Whip Studios' (Berkeley, Calif.) piano for the job. According to studio owner/engineer David Landon, E-mu has locked out the studio for a week and is recording every note on the piano with various dynamic levels and 10 different mics. Landon (right) is engineering with help from E-mu's Tim Swartz and Ed Dickson (left).
